April presentation

Jim Belt is going to detail the history of Hawaiian coinage, paper money and postage stamps from 1846 when King Kamehameha III tied the islands' monetary system to the United States'. The first coins - 1847 cents featuring the king on the obverse - were not popular. Stamps arrived a few years later.

March presentation

Bill Kamb "Newfoundland Tokens." Bill gave a short history of Newfoundland, including its discovery by the Vikings and then "re-discovery" by John Cabot. Early on it was a British colony heavily dependent on the Fishery. Bill then described the various tokens he's been collecting for nearly 40 years, i.e. those issued in the 1840's by the Rutherford Bros. of St. Johns & Harbor Grace and by others in the 1850's to those issued by several merchants in the 20th century for use in their company stores. - Chris Palmer

THE NEW CENT POISONOUS.—Several instances have lately occurred in different parts of the country, where children have died from the effect of poison taken into the system by swallowing the nickel cent. As this coin is small and easily swallowed, there is great danger in allowing young children to have them in their possession. The metal which composes it has had a fatal effect, and would seem to be poisonous. Parents should be cautious.
